Assistant Professor at Institute of National Economy and Finance / Faculty of Economics and Management / Slovak University of Agriculture in Nitra

Mission Statement:

Two years ago, I joined the BAC leadership as Vice-Chairman (my first time in this position) with the main goal: “To make Slovakia a place where young people can get a quality education and where graduates can find interesting and adequately paid work with career growth prospects. At the same time, to make Slovakia an attractive destination for companies, where they can successfully expand their businesses and create new jobs with high added value, because they will find talented and qualified employees here.” We have done a lot in the last two years, but we still have a lot ahead of us on this journey. I would like to continue this mission also in the next period and, with the support of all members of the BAC committee, lead us towards our common goals.
