Mission Statement:

The recodification of Slovakia's Civil Code represents one of the most important legal modernization efforts in recent history—transforming the basic private law code rooted in a 1964 framework into a contemporary legal system aligned with European standards. Drawing on my experience as current Head of the Civil Code Task Force, I am prepared to continue leading this essential project with the strategic vision to enhance Slovakia's business environment. This includes ensuring that the recodified Civil Code promotes legal certainty, facilitates commercial transactions, reduces compliance burdens, and creates an attractive legal framework for investment and entrepreneurship.
